BUY OR SELL YOUR EARNING METHODS

You Tube

Today I want to share one method that you can use to make some extra cash in your pocket, I doubt you can make millions with it, but 2-10X investment is almost guaranteed.

When I was 16-17 I tried tons of methods on Youtube with CPA, PPD, PPS, PPI and all of them were basically crap and I made only 0.$$ with them.

I went nuts, I couldn't believe that this huge website with 100000000000+ videos can't return me even my investment.

So I searched for some ideas and while I watched some fitness video I realized how this guy has 2 000 000 views and he make money only from his AdSense account on that video, and he can sell anything fitness related with this video.

So I came up with this idea, some of you are probably doing this already, but if you are not, you should try it for sure.

I found this fitness guy with non monetized video, and I looked for other Fitness videos and 95% of them were not monetized with any other affiliate program.

So what can I do here?

My first success was with one fitness guy who explained how to not get too much muscles while you train or some similar shit.

So I went to clickbank and I looked for diet and exercise products, so I found this How to train properly ebook + CD collection.

This product was sold for 49$ I think and they gave 50% commission on every sale.

So if I can sell that product I can make 25$ from every sale.

I contacted this guy who with how to train videos and I offered him 100$ in cash if he can put my link in his video description.

His video description was empty, and this was win win for both of us.

I wrote him text like this: ' If you like this video you can also check this How to train properly E-book: myaffiliatelink.com '.

He just posted that in his video and video got like 90 000 more views in one month and I got 600 clicks on my link and 11 sales, in my first month.

So I invested 100$ and I made 180$ profit in one month.

I used this 180$ and payed this guy for 2 more videos and he posted same book in one more video, and one other Ebook on other video.

I went crazy about this method, in the next 3 months I spent almost 500$ just trying other niches, and I almost always made some profit, from every single niche.

But how to start with this method:

BUY OR SELL EARNING METHODS

1. Find Profitable Niche on Youtube

Youtube is huge, and you can find literally any niche there.

You just have to find one that's profitable and where people are prepared to buy something.

Fitness, Gym, Self help and education are probably the most profitable ones.

2. Find profitable product

You can promote any affiliate network you want and any product you want.

Clickbank is perfect for this method, they can offer you tons of great products with clickbait titles and nice content inside.

One tip:

Physical products are also great for this method, and if you sell for example Amazon products about gym, fitness, health, kitchen... you should target Amazon countries and it's always better to target countries like Spain, Italy and Brasil because if some guy is speaking Spanish in some video 99% viewers are from Spain because only they understand this language.

When you sell Amazon US products only 20-30% viewers are from US so you will only get commission for 20-30% sales.

So it's always better to sell digital products and CD collections on clickbank because you will get worldwide commissions.

3. Contact video owners and pay them

When you find some profitable niche, nice product and your potential money making video, you should contact it's owner.

Visit profile of the person who uploaded this video and click on 'About Channel' and after that click on Send message.

Write them about how you like their video, and how you own this product (never tell them how you promote clickbank) because they will search for it and they will just create affiliate link and promote it by themself.

You can also ask them to put new Annotation on the end of their video, with your affiliate link.

This is where lot of guys have trust issues, some of my friends started this and they were afraid of this guy scamming them when they pay him.

Well, that's why you always need to choose 10k+ subscribers channels because they are probably more fair.

I never got scammed here, and people who get 100$ are more than satisfied with this money because they probably made like 30$ from AdSense on this video and some guy just gave them 100$ just for one link in description.

And if this guy have like 50k views per video people will buy this product when they see it in his description box because they believe him.

I hope you will be able to make some profit out of it.

I also tried promoting some CPA offers like this, I had success with some Gaming channels they put some Gaming products in description, so you can get really creative and you don't have to choose any of these niches in my thread, you can surf and search for some new ideas and use it.

I made some money without much effort, so if you have some money to invest, you can try this.
